- 37.2. Trading on leveraged capital means that you can make trades with values that are significantly higher than the funds you invest, which only serve as the Margin. High Leverage can significantly increase the potential return, but equally it can also significantly increase potential losses. The leverage is specified as a ratio, such as 1:30.
- 37.3. The Company has a default ratio level for Retail Clients of 1:30. The Client can select and use the selected Leverage ratio or identify the Leverage ratio for any specific CFD class or individual CFD on an ongoing basis and nothing in this Agreement should be construed as the Company recommending any specific leverage level for the Client. The leverage limits for Retail Clients are subject to:
- The individual Leverage levels we set from time to time at our entire discretion based on our Leverage Policy.
 - Leverage ratios may be restricted subject to national rules in certain jurisdictions, such as Poland, where it is set at a maximum of 1:100. In such cases we will adhere to the Leverage limits in such jurisdictions, subject to our authorization and regulatory requirements, unless such limits are higher than those set out in our Leverage Policy or under the CySEC requirements, in which case the latter shall prevail.

- The Company's classification of you as either an Experienced Retail Client or a Non-Experienced Retail Client based on your initial assessment of your knowledge and experience in trading in complex financial instruments such as CFDs and whether such are appropriate to you.
- The default maximum leverage level of 1:30 for all Retail Clients, set by CySEC as the Company's national regulator or any other limits set by other relevant regulators as appropriate, and is also subject to the terms of our Leverage Policy and any guidelines as these might be issued by ESMA. In all cases, Non-Experienced Retail Clients cannot select a leverage level higher than the Default Leverage Limit.
- In addition to the above, the Company provides Clients with "negative balance protection" for their Account. This means that Client's losses can never exceed its Equity.

37.4. Notwithstanding the provisions set out above, the Company may restrict the default and/or any selected Leverage ratios at any time and without notice in the following scenarios:

- (a) if it considers this to be in Clients' best interest, or
- (b) if this is required under the Applicable Laws and Regulations or
- (c) the Company, at its entire discretion, consider it necessary having regard to prevailing or expected market conditions and volatility. Whilst we endeavour to give the Client reasonable notice of such action, you acknowledge and agree that especially at times of increased actual or expected market volatility caused by either foreseen or unforeseen political and economic events, the Company may proceed to such changes whilst notifying you of these only at the same time.

38. General trading conditions

38.1. All transactions shall be opened and closed at the prices quoted on Company's Platform. Each price is valid only at the exact date and the exact time in which such price is presented to the Client. The Client acknowledges that due to events such as rapid price fluctuations and Internet Latency, the price presented on the trading platform may no longer remain in effect at the time the Client's Order is executed on the Company's servers.

38.2. It is hereby agreed that Orders shall be executed as follows:

- (a) Spot/Forward or CFD Transactions shall be executed against the quoted price in effect on the Company's trading platform at the time the relevant Order is placed, provided that- the Company reserves the right to send the Client a re-quote, or reject the Order including but not limited to situations of high market volatility, and any other circumstances that the Company deems that to be necessary according to the Order Execution Policy, available at any time to the Company's website and as an appendix to this agreement.
- (b) The Client acknowledges and agrees that the Company is under no obligation to quote any specific price, which is quoted in a specific Financial Market.
- (c) The Profit or Loss for long/buy CFD Transaction will be:
 - (i) the closing price of the CFD,
 - (ii) less the opening price of the CFD,
 - (iii) multiplied by the volume (contracts opened multiplied by the contract size) of the CFD Position
 - (iv) less commissions + swaps/interest

The Profit or Loss for a short/sell CFD Transaction will be:

- (v) the opening price of the CFD
- (vi) less the closing price of the CFD
- (vii) multiplied by the volume (contracts opened multiplied by the contract size) of the CFD Position
- (viii) less commissions + swaps/interest

Detailed trade examples can be found on the Website.

- (d) The price of the Expiring Transaction will be the last traded price at or prior to the Closing Time, plus or minus (as the case may be) any Spread, fee, Interest Adjustment or commission that the Company may apply when such an Expiring Transaction is closed.

- 38.4. If at any time trading on a relevant Financial Market or trading in a certain Underlying Asset is suspended, the Company shall suspend the trading in the CFD Transactions based on such Underlying Asset and calculate the value of the CFD with reference to the last traded price before the time of suspension, as reasonably determined by the Company. In the event that the previously mentioned suspension continues for five Business Days, the Company may decide, at its sole and absolute discretion, a Closing Time and price of the relevant CFD. During the term of a CFD Transaction whose market is suspended, the Company shall have the right to terminate the CFD Transaction at its discretion, and to amend or vary the margin requirements.
- 38.5. Under certain trading conditions it may be impossible to execute Stop Loss Orders, Take Profit Order, Buy Stop Orders, Sell Stop Orders or other limit Orders and Market Orders on any Financial Instrument at the declared price. In such case, the Company has the right in its sole discretion to execute such Orders or change the opening (closing) price of the Transaction at a first available price. This may occur, for example, at times of rapid price movement if the price rises or falls in one trading session to such an extent that under the rules of the relevant exchange, trading is suspended or restricted. Or, this may occur if the trading session starts within moments, so as a result, placing a Stop Loss order will not necessarily limit the Client's losses to the intended amounts, because market conditions may make it impossible to execute such an Order at the stipulated price.
- 38.6. The Company may establish cut-off times for instructions or Orders, which may be earlier than the times established by the particular Financial Market, or clearing house involved in any Transaction and the Client shall have no claims against the Company arising out of the fact that an Order was not placed by the Client ahead of our cut-off time.
- 38.7. All price levels on the trading platform are determined at the Company's sole discretion.
